Our Vision

Our vision is to see the worlds biggest problems solved through skilled volunteering.

Our Mission

Our Mission is to advance volunteering into the digital age and provide modern day professionals with meaningful opportunities to give back anywhere in the world.

Online volunteering for an online generation

We make it incredibly easy for people to connect their skills and experience with the causes that matter to them, thus unlocking millions of dollars in volunteer value to our non-profit partners and allowing a new generation to make change, their way.

We're working on something exciting!

Following 6+ years of operation, and millions of dollars of impact, the Vollie team are currently in the process of creating new and exciting software for the online volunteering sector. To keep up to date with these developments, submit your information below and we'll keep you posted. We'll be back soon!

ONLINE VOLUNTEERING OPPORTUNITIES

Virtual volunteering - change the world from home

We believe everyone has the capacity to help. Vollie matches skilled volunteers with non-profit organisations in a way that makes sense in our digital age. Every project is online, which means as a volunteer you can work remotely, including from the comfort of your own home. Vollie has seen over 1,000 impact projects completed through our platform to date, and our Vollie's complete this work from all sorts of places.
